Congress to Debate Health Care Measure

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins debate today on one of the momentous issues of the 1962 session—health care for the aged financed under the Social Security System.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota told a reporter he was confident a bipartisan proposal to establish such a system would clear the Senate by the end of the week, despite a Fourth of July break Wednesday.

Sponsors claimed a good margin for the health program and said a number of Republicans would vote for it. However, many Republicans and some Southern Democrats remain opposed to Social Security financing.

Even if the measure clears the Senate it would face rough days ahead. The House Ways and Means Committee has refused to act on the administration measure for more than a year and obstacles to House action would be formidable.

The House has arranged to pass an atomic energy authorization bill today or Tuesday, then adjourn for the holiday Wednesday with no business scheduled for the rest of the week.

A compromise sugar act extension bill, passed by the House Saturday, also comes up in the Senate today. The measure may be cleared for President Kennedy's signature by nightfall.

The Social Security health plan will be offered by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., as an amendment to a House-passed bill amending the public assistance law.

Democratic leaders are anxious not to delay the House bill for long because a number of its provisions extend programs which expired Saturday midnight, the end of fiscal 1962.

Anderson's proposal, worked out after prolonged negotiation with five Republican senators who agree to co-sponsor it along with 17 Democrats, contains the same benefits as the administration bill.

These include hospitalization, pushed earlier in this Congress, nursing home care, home health services and outpatient hospital diagnostic services.

They would be financed by a one-fourth per cent increase in the Social Security payroll tax on both employers and employees and by raising the taxable base from $4,800 to $1,200 a year.

Voting Machine Petition Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Petitions to put a permissive voting machine amendment on the November general election ballot were to be presented to Secretary of State Nancy Hall today.

Herbert L. Thomas Sr., state chairman of the committee to get the amendment on the ballot, announced Saturday that 33,200 signatures had been obtained on petitions. The required number is 42,200.

Thomas said in September a campaign will begin to educate voters on voting machines and their advantages.

Arson Charged to 75-Year-Old Man

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — Saline County Sheriff Rogie Hester said Sunday a charge of arson will be filed today against a 75-year-old Benton man.

Hester said charges would be filed in connection with a fire that destroyed an empty Shell display home near Benton. Firemen summoned to the fire said they found 28 holes drilled in one corner of the house.

They said the holes were bored by hand with brace and bit, and were stuffed with cotton which had been soaked in kerosene.

Dierks Gets $44 Acre for 6,465

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The federal government has paid Dierks Forests Inc. $286,000 for 6,465 acres of land in the Millwood Dam and Reservoir area. The land was bought in two sections—3,921 acres in one and 2,544 acres in the other.

Would Fire Four Agri Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says Undersecretary Charles Murphy and four other Agriculture Department officials should be fired for granting favors to Billie Sol Estes.

Wilson also expressed his view on a television program that Secy. of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman should resign for lack of prompt action in the Estes scandal.

An Agriculture Department spokesman declined.

Sen. Edmund Muñoz, a member of the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee, appeared on the program as defender of the Agriculture Department. He said his committee, which resumes its hearings in the Estes case Thursday, has found no evidence of favors from Estes to persons still in the Agriculture Department.

Estes, a Pecos, Tex., financier, is under state and federal fraud charges involving about $20 million in mortgages of fertilizer tanks which the FBI has said do not exist. Manipulations of his cotton acreage allotment and his storage of government grain also are under state and federal investigation.

Democratic leaders are anxious not to delay the House bill for long because a number of its provisions extend programs which expired Saturday midnight, the end of fiscal 1962.

Says Teachers Not Fooled

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, said Saturday the appointment of Clarence Bell as Gov. Orval E. Faubus' campaign manager will have little effect on the votes of Arkansas teachers.

Bell is superintendent of schools at Parkin, and also managed Faubus' 1960 campaign.

Rozzell said at a National Education Association convention in Denver the appointment of Bell, however, probably would not enhance his professional reputation in education.

Bathhouse Row to Get New Facilities

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Raymond Gregg, superintendent of the Hot Springs National Park, says the bathing industry may spend about $500,000 in the next five years for new therapeutic facilities along famed "Bath House Row."

The park supervises the bathhouses, Gregg said.

The Fordyce Bathhouse, which was built in 1914, will suspend operations July 1 for negotiations between the owners and the Department of the Interior on the installation of the new therapeutic facilities, Gregg said.

He said new whirlpool bath now are being installed to see if the expansion is warranted along the row, and installation of the equipment is expected by October.

Gregg said the industry feels modernization could pull the industry business trend up.

Accidents in State Take Lives of 8

By THOMAS ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eight persons died in accidents in Arkansas during the past week-end — six in traffic and two by drowning.

Their death brought to 18 the number of persons accidentally killed in the state during the past week.

At Des Arc a 27-year-old highway construction worker was reportedly drowned when he jumped into the White River from a 72-foot high suspension bridge. Deputies said Billy Joe Baldwin did not surface after his dive. He had made a similar jump last year from the bridge.

A Memphis man drowned in the Mississippi River near West Memphis when the wake of a motorboat knocked him and his wife from a log into the river's current. Other swimmers rescued the victim, Edward Dunchew, 22, then went to get his wife. Dunchew followed the rescuers and drowned.

Two persons were killed Saturday in a head-on collision near Fort Smith. They were Mrs. Sam Bowman of McGehee; wife of the former president of the Arkansas Bank Association, and Mrs. Blanche Vincent of Sulphur, La. Police at Little Rock were searching Sunday for a hit-and-run driver whose car killed Mrs. Josephine Kopperod, 72, of Chicago.

Tommy Fincher, 19, of El Dorado was killed late Saturday night near Jersey when the car he and James Belin, 17, also of El Dorado, were in went out of control and overturned. Belin was seriously injured.

Larry Tinegar, 7, of Gregory was struck and killed while riding on his bicycle on Highway 23 at Gregory. Police said the youth crossed into the path of a car driven by Grant R. Allen, 58, of Searey.

Mrs. Buna Loveless was thrown from a pickup truck at Monticello Saturday and killed. Police said she lost control of the truck and it overturned three times. Her four children, riding in the cab, escaped with minor injuries.

During the week 10 persons died in traffic accidents, three drowned, four were killed in a plane crash and one died in a tractor accident.

Granddaughter of Hope Woman Dies

Patty Sue Brase, aged 2½, of Sikeston, Mo., died Sunday in a Memphis hospital. Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brase and three brothers, Mrs. Mable Schneiker LaRue of Hope.

Runaway Spy
Tries to Kill
Self on Plane

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP) — Runaway spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen was reported out of danger today after trying to kill himself aboard a crowded Israeli airliner returning him to an American prison.

The half-jumping 62-year-old psychiatrist, sentenced to life imprisonment for spying for the Soviet Union, slashed his wrists and stabbed himself in the abdomen with a steak knife Sunday during a flight back to New York after being refused political asylum in Israel.

A bulletin issued at Hillingdon Hospital said: Soblen's condition has improved, and it is unlikely that an operation will be necessary.

Other sources said Soblen was out of danger though still too weak to travel. He lost two pints of blood. Promptly administered blood transfusions restored a measure of his strength.

Soblen suffers from leukemia—cancer of the blood—and doctors said last August he had less than a year to live.

Soblen, accompanied by a U.S. marshal, made his suicide attempt aboard an El Al Airlines Boeing 707 over the English Channel as the big jet approached London as a routine stop.

The Lithuanian-born doctor was rushed to Hillingdon Hospital where Scotland Yard detectives stood guard over his room.

A British Home Office spokesman made clear that Soblen, who was deported Sunday from Israel, would not be allowed to stay in Britain.

"As soon as Dr. Soblen is fit enough to travel, he will have to leave the country," the spokesman said.

Soblen forfeited $100,000 bail and fled from the United States last week after losing an appeal against his life sentence given him or spying for the Soviet Union during World War II. He was traced to Tel Aviv. Israeli authorities expelled him on the grounds that he entered the country on false documents — the Canadian passport of his late brother.

Soblen was secretly bundled aboard an Israeli airliner at Lyddo Airport Sunday morning for Athens and transferred there to a chartered El Al airliner returning 152 Americans from vacation in Israel.

U.S. Chief Marshal James J. P. McShane, 53, who had flown to Tel Aviv to bring back Soblen, and an Israeli doctor accompanied the convicted spy.

S. M. Long, 58, of McCaskill, Dies Thursday

Samuel Monroe Long, 58, a lifelong resident of McCaskill, died Thursday at his home. He was a farmer and substitute mail carrier and member of Friendship Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, and three sons, Henry and Allen Long of Biloxi, Miss.; Hansford J. Long of U.S. Armed Forces in Germany; two brothers, Floyd and Wille Long, both of McCaskill; three sisters, Mrs. Vera Jesler of Pasadena, Texas; Mrs. Carrie Boyd of Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. Chloe Moses of McCaskill.

Services were to be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at Friendship Methodist Church by the Rev. Calvin Voller and the Rev. Darrell Harbison. Burial was to be in Friendship Cemetery by Latimer Funeral Service of Nashville.

The main issue of the campaign, he said, is breaking the hold that Arkla and its president, W. R. (Witt) Stephens, have on the people.

Saskatchewan Doctors Hit Medical Plan by Striking, 925,000 Persons Involved

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — A strike by most of Saskatchewan's 700 private doctors swept this province of 925,000 people today as the Socialist provincial government launched the first big compulsory medical insurance plan in North America.

Charging that the plan opens the door to government control over their profession, doctors took off on vacation or quit the province to practice elsewhere.

Most doctors' offices and clinics were closed for the Dominion Day holiday today, but many displayed signs saying they would remain shut. Physicians said they would not give medical advice by telephone and would make house calls only in dire emergencies.

The government medical plan and the doctors' strike took effect Sunday.

Free emergency treatment was provided by about 240 volunteer doctors at 34 of the province's 120 hospitals, but officials warned they may be unable to extend this service beyond two weeks.

Authorities began moving emergency and chronic cases to the 34 hospitals. The hospitals said they were busy but were not over loaded. One fatality, an infant, was reported.

Ten-month-old Carl Derhousoff, believed suffering from meningitis, died Sunday night en route from his home in Usherville to an emergency treatment center in Yorkton, 75 miles away.

The provincial government said it would call on some of the 110 doctors in the public health service if they were needed to help in the emergency.

Cure For Boredom

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE!

Dear Helen: I am bored with life. Mine is so dreary; the same no time for prettifying myself. I old round each day. My husband, look in the mirror and shudder; production boss at the local hair-struggling, no make-up, old story, has to be on the job by housecoat. My husband never 7:30 every morning. The early gives me a glance, he's so busy hours in summer are cool and bolting his food and reading the fresh. The perfume off lowers sports news. I shuttle back and forth in through the open kitchen from kitchen to table. The door and some birds are still children squabble but nobody singing. That's the best part of pays any attention.

Well, to get back to the tread-mill; I bring in the milk, set the telephone callers and doorknob-table, start breakfast (my family ringers; peddlers, salesmen and are big eaters), then wake my husband and the kids. It takes worst. If I won't talk they get two or three calls to get them miffed and if I do, I'm fit to be going. I dress the children while he shaves. It's a rat-race to have breakfast on the table and everybody seated at once, so I've got the last flicker of TV. Come morning and she's the original dog.

Once my husband leaves, I turn mouse.

Result: I cook breakfast and feed baby. Occasionally the wife wakes but only after shouting and then, bang she leaps separately. Then there are the telephone callers and doorknob-table, start breakfast (my family ringers; peddlers, salesmen and are big eaters), then wake my husband and the kids. It takes worst. Dear Helen: We're a young married couple with an 18-month-old baby girl. My problem is getting the wife up in the morning. She gulps black coffee all evening and refuses to go to bed till the last flicker of TV. Come morning and she's the original dog.

Dear Helen: I am bored with life. Mine is so dreary; the same no time for prettifying myself. I old round each day. My husband, look in the mirror and shudder; production boss at the local hair-struggling, no make-up, old story, has to be on the job by housecoat. My husband never 7:30 every morning. The early gives me a glance, he's so busy hours in summer are cool and bolting his food and reading the fresh. The perfume off lowers sports news. I shuttle back and forth in through the open kitchen from kitchen to table. The door and some birds are still children squabble but nobody singing. That's the best part of pays any attention.

Well, to get back to the tread-mill; I bring in the milk, set the telephone callers and doorknob-table, start breakfast (my family ringers; peddlers, salesmen and are big eaters), then wake my husband and the kids. It takes worst. If I won't talk they get two or three calls to get them miffed and if I do, I'm fit to be going. I dress the children while he shaves. It's a rat-race to have

Angels Split Doubleheader With Yankees

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Angels are wearing their halos at a slightly jaunty, rakish angle, and if their smiles are more devil-may-care than angelic these days well, there's pretty good reason for it.

Of course, it may be a rather un-angelic attitude that's struck by these Los Angeles Angels, but then, they don't often look much like angels in any event.

There's bulky Steve Pilko, who could more easily pass for a retired wrestler. Or 5-foot-5 Albie Pearson, who looks like a jockey. Or free-wheeling Bo Belinsky, more the pool hustler type than an angel.

No, they don't look like angels at all. And, at least on paper, they certainly don't look like contenders for the American League title.

But the name on the uniform confirms the first point and the American League standings verify the second. They're only three percentage points out of first place and here it is almost time for the All Star break.

The Angels, generally picked to finish deep in the second division in the pre-season selections, give no indication of forsaking the ride on Cloud Nine.

They gave a good indication of that Sunday when they split a doubleheader with New York at Yankee Stadium, losing the first 6-3 but rallying for the second 12-5. It gave the Angels a 2-2 split in their four-game series in New York, and marked the first time in their two-year history they had won at the Stadium.

The split, along with Chicago's sweep over Cleveland, 5-4 and 7-6, dropped the Indians from first to third, in a virtual tie with Minnesota, which blanked Washington 9-0. That puts New York in first, three points up on Los Angeles. Cleveland in third only a half game behind the Minnesota in fourth, only three points back of the Indians.

Detroit edged Baltimore 3-2 and Kansas City beat Boston 9-5 in the others.

In the National League, San Francisco retained a half-game lead with a 5-4 rally against Philadelphia while second-place Los Angeles dropped New York 3-1. Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 7-2. Cincinnati topped Houston 6-1 and Milwaukee edged Chicago 1-0.

The Angels' affaire with the Yankees was a bit on the stormy side, involving a full-blown rhubarb and some unhygienic language in each game.

The Yanks won the first on homers by Hector Lopez and Tom Tresh, while the Angels rallied for runs in the eighth to take the second.

Cheago took advantage of Cleveland errors and the resulting unearned runs in sweeping two from the Indians. Camilo Carreon's pinch triple with two out in the ninth drove in three unearned runs and won the first game. A fifth-inning six-run uprising, five of which were unearned as Gene Green dropped two fly balls, secured the nightcap.

Camilo Pascual (11-4) tossed his second straight shutout, 5-0, at the Washington Senators and was supported by a 3-bit Minnesota attack including home runs by Lennie Green, Bernie Allen, Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew. Pascual struck out four to push his league-leading total to 106 and

Transients Hurt
VAUGHN, N.M. (AP)—Two 17-year-old transients from Little Rock, Roger Lee Wood and Raymond Stewart, were injured in a 27-car Santa Fe Railway freight derailment near Espanola Saturday. They suffered minor cuts and abrasions. They said they had been to California looking for jobs, and were hopping a ride in a box car back to Little Rock.

(Editor's Note: This is the ninth of a series of information articles pertaining to current deer management problems.)

The winning pitcher was Bennett, who struck out 6, walked 6 and gave up four hits.

Hope again plays Camden tomorrow night here.

Doe Season Successful Elsewhere

As pointed out in an earlier article of this series, the habitat in changes (mostly big timber cutting) which brought on the upsurge in deer populations, came accounted for 46,070.

With few exceptions, our current deer problems were experienced deer states that try to take 20 per cent years ago by at least half of the herd annually.

doe deer in one state doesn't necessarily mean that it is a good at a few of them.

Pennsylvania had its first antlerless deer season in 1952. Last year the harvest was 38, while harvesting 25 per cent. They have had no starvation and hunters get the surplus.

Maine produces perhaps the biggest bucks in the Nation. Maine in 1949 and killed 160,000 antlers. The kill in 1961 was 32,747.

Michigan opened the doe season in 1952. Last fall hunters refugees and killing both sexes there took over 115,000.

Here is what Arizona had to say about the deer problem results from poor harvest. Hunters are not killing enough deer. It is shameful to waste such a valuable resource. It's time more deer are harvested through controlled deer hunts and other tools of management."

"Ostensibly, the deer problem is the opinion of conservationists. The reason for this is that New Hampshire is one of the states where the legislature permits the harvest of both bucks and does so that the deer herd is kept within carrying capacity of its range."

Here is what Fulton Lovell, Director of the Georgia G&F Commission has to say. "The Commission is gravely concerned over the critical food shortages that plague Georgia's deer herd. Next: Dogs and Does

Juniors Lose Second Game to Camden

Friday night at Camden Hope Junior American Legion suffered their second defeat from the host, with a score of 6 to 4. Two of the runs the locals scored came in the 5th with walkers Carl McMurtrey and Dan Hatfield coming in on errors. In the 6th Ronnie Banksdale and Mutt Wassell, who both walked, were baited in by a double by McMurtrey.

McMurtrey struck out 3, walked 3 and yielded 3 hits. He was relieved in the 6th by Barksdale who struck out 1, walked 1 and gave up no hits.

The four hits that the locals managed were two singles from Jerry Burnett, a double from McMurtrey and a single by Wassell.

Camden's first run came in the 2nd with Churchill. They added went the distance for the 11th time this season.

Relief pitcher Terry Fox retired Brooks Robinson with the bases loaded in the ninth to preserve Detroit's victory over Baltimore. Two unearned runs by the Tigers spoiled Robin Roberts' bid for his fifth straight victory.

Kansas City jumped on Earl Wilson, who had a no-hitter his last time out, and loser Dick Radatz for five runs in the seventh inning to put it away against the Red Sox. The winning rally featured homers by Bobby Del Greco and George Alusik.

Doe Season Successful Elsewhere

When considering the fact, however, that practically all of the better deer states have been harvesting "any deer" for as long as 5 to 35 years, and their wildlife leaders profess it to be the best interest of their deer herds, there is good reason to take a closer look.

Pennsylvania had its first antlerless deer season in 1952. Last year the harvest was 38, while harvesting 25 per cent. They have had no starvation and hunters get the surplus.

Maine produces perhaps the biggest bucks in the Nation. Maine in 1949 and killed 160,000 antlers.

Michigan opened the doe season in 1952. Last fall hunters refugees and killing both sexes every year since 1910.

Wisconsin opened the doe season in 1952. Last fall hunters refugees and killing both sexes every year since 1910.

Authorizes figure they have had one of the states where the legislature permits the harvest of both bucks and does so that the deer herd is kept within carrying capacity of its range."

Here is what Fulton Lovell, Director of the Georgia G&F Commission has to say. "The Commission is gravely concerned over the critical food shortages that plague Georgia's deer herd,

"Ostensibly, the deer problem is the opinion of conservationists. The reason for this is that New Hampshire is one of the states where the legislature permits the harvest of both bucks and does so that the deer herd is kept within carrying capacity of its range."
